

● SAFETY FIRST: Year Nine Charters pupil Michael Rotenberg films his classmates for a video on road safety.

Film focus on safety

SCHOOL children have taken their message about road safety to the streets.

Pupils at Charters, in Sunningdale, teamed up with the Ascot Neighbourhood Action Group (NAG) to create a film highlighting the dangers for youngsters walking near roads.

Years Nine, 10 and 11 pupils at the Charters Road school took to Devenish Road in Sunningdale to shoot scenes about what can happen when youngsters do not concentrate when walking on the narrow footpath, play in the road or jostle each other.

Martyn Parker, co-headteacher at Charters, said: "I am sure this video will be a valuable resource to emphasise how young people can avoid dangerous situations and be more proactive about their own safety. We are very grateful to NAG for involving us in this project."

Students were responsible for filming and producing the video, which featured an ambulance thanks to the South Central Ambulance Service. Sergeant Pike and his team from Ascot Police Station closed the road while filming took place.

The video will soon appear on the NAG and Charters School websites. Visit www.ascotnag.com